

Hatred felt like creeping in
And it was about to sweep love away
But why did you let it happen
I chose to be with you
But instead you didn't want
I wanted to be by your side
But you weren't on mine
It was supposed to be a relationship
But I guess I was in it alone
We didn't know each other
Yet we jumped forward
And the results
Were dangerous
A journey of love
Turns into a road of heartbreaks
Guess we were a match
But we never took it slow
We were ahead of schedule
And the end result
Were two broken hearts
Crying at opposite ends
Maybe my love for you is meant to last
But not at the price of pain
Maybe one day we both will understand
That a real relationship
Is the one in which the two of us are friends
Not just lovers
At least we both learnt our lessons